BOMBS JAIL; FAILS TO ESCAPE

FRENCH CABINET WRECKER FAILS TO GET CABINET

Herriot as Premier Finds Self Shunned.

BULLETIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PARIS, July 18.—Edouard Herriot tonight asked President Doumergue to give him another half day, promising to report a cabinet formed at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon. Socialists, who this afternoon curbed their radical chief's blandishments designed to lure them into harness with the policy of tacit support. To get this Herriot will be forced to promise to adhere to the one burning article of the Socialists' credo—a levy on all capital.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PARIS, July 18.—Edouard Herriot, chief actor in the wrecking of the Briand-Caillaux ministry, tonight appears blocked in his efforts to create a cabinet to govern France.

After a few hours of consultations with political leaders, following his acceptance of President Doumergue's request that he become premier, the radical Socialist leader found himself shunned by leaders and large numbers of the right and left parties in the Chamber of Deputies. These had united yesterday long enough to lay waste to the house of cards that was the French government.

Louis Marin, leader of the national list, who helped to bring about the downfall of Premier Aristide Briand's cabinet and who aided in balking Joseph Caillaux's dream of a financial dictatorship, today openly avoided the premier designate. He announced that he and his powerful party will not think of entering or supporting the proposed national union cabinet with M. Herriot at its head, although he would tolerate the latter's presence in some post other than that of premier.

Socialists Demand Price.
The Socialists met and had a few hot fights—because the heat in Paris today was unbearable and because they are cantankerous anyway—and sent a messenger to inform M. Herriot that they would not consider entering a national union cabinet and, as far as acting in his support goes, they would demand a whole batch of impossible assurances.

The radical Socialists, M. Herriot's own party, of which only 48 out of 137 members obeyed his startling command yesterday to leap at the throat of the Briand ministry, held an indignation meeting, in which the forty-eight were called harsh names and M. Herriot was rebuked for plotting his piece of vandalism without letting his entire party instead of a very few intimates in on the deal.

They refused to support any Herriot combination in which Andre Tardieu was included.

See Union Cabinet Blocked.
Thus the mayor of Lyons, who is also president of the chamber of deputies, apparently cannot form a cabinet of national union, although Raymond Poincare, former president and premier, rushed back to Paris today from his country home to take part in the chances for the reconstitution of the old cartel of the left are even slimmer because of the Socialists' coolness and the hostility in M. Herriot's own party.

Meanwhile France waits, a prey of unbounded fears. Newspaper comments hint that unless the governmental crisis is quickly settled, the people may take a hand.

The treasury holds only 600,000,000 francs ($14,640,000), and the country knows it. M. Caillaux revealed this a week ago.

Debts on All Sides.
Imminent obligations loom mountain high. A total of 550,000,000 francs ($12,450,000) must be paid out in pensions and compensations July 31. Moreover, $1,250,000 is due Uncle Sam on Aug. 1—414,000,000 francs with the franc at forty to the dollar, there being a chance that it will go to fifty thereafter if the crisis lasts. To England France must pay 1,000,000,000 francs ($22,000,000) on Aug. 25, and $200,000,000 pounds to 2,500,000 pounds on Aug. 21 for amortization of the commercial debt.

With failure of M. Herriot's efforts to form a cabinet imminent, other combinations are envisaged. Albert Serret, former ambassador to Turkey, is considered as having a good chance to form a national union cabinet, including M. Herriot, Marin, Bokanowski, and, perhaps, Poincare.

NORRIS FILLS PULPIT ON DAY AFTER SLAYING

No Allusion by Texas Pastor to Tragedy.

Fort Worth, Tex., July 18.—[Special.]—Preaching but a few steps away from the office in which he yesterday shot and killed D. E. Chipps, wealthy lumberman, the Rev. J. Frank Norris today filled his pulpit as usual at the First Baptist church.

He chose for his text: "There is therefore no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus," from the first verse, eighth chapter of Romans. "All condemnation was passed upon Him. Every sin was named on Him," he said, "but there can be no condemnation of those who are in Him. Who is he that condemneth? If God is for us, who can be against us. All things work together for those who are with God."

Audience of Eight Thousand.
Eight thousand persons crowded into the church. Except for the thousands who fringed the loyal congregation, there was nothing to suggest the tragedy that had taken place on the previous evening. The inevitable curious crowd lined the sidewalks and the afternoon of the church, whose membership is 8,000, and fully 10,000 sought admission to the auditorium.

After the conclusion of the sermon scores of men and women went to the altar and shook Dr. Norris' hand. Tears came into Norris' eyes as he told some of them: "My faith is greater than ever. This is the dawning of a new day."

Norris today received several hundred messages from over the country, assuring him of sympathy and support.

Funer of Slain Man in Afternoon.

While Norris preached, the body of Chipps lay in a front room of the palatial Chipps residence in another section of the city with flowers piled high on the casket. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the funeral of Chipps was held at the First Presbyterian church, the Rev. J. K. Thompson officiating. Mayor H. C. Meacham, City Manager O. E. Carr, and many prominent citizens attended. Mr. Thompson made no reference to the killing, but spoke of the generosity and high reputation of the slain man.

Acted in Self Defense.

The tragedy occurred late Saturday night in the office of the pastor. Norris at once surrendered and was released on $10,000 bond, signed by thirty members of his congregation.

May Be His Own Attorney.
At no place in his sermon, which was confined mostly to Biblical quotations, did the pastor refer to the tragedy. In a statement to newspaper men, however, Norris referred to the slaying as "a closed incident," saying "I probably would not require the services of counsel. I acted to defend myself," he said over and over. "I consider the incident closed. I have not made any effort to retain counsel, although several lawyers have volunteered their services. In the event there is an indictment I shall probably handle the case myself."

Norris said he attempted to pacify Chipps but without success. There was a revolver in the desk of his study, and, alarmed for his own safety, the pastor snatched the weapon out of the drawer and fired.

JUDGE LUECK OF WISCONSIN DIES SUDDENLY

Fond du Lac, Wis., July 18.—(AP)—Former Judge Martin L. Lueck of Beaver Dam, Democratic candidate for governor and Democratic national committeeman, died here early today at Stages hospital.

Death came unexpectedly to the Democratic leader, and following a collapse at 11 o'clock last night he sank steadily. Dr. Henry E. Twombly of Fond du Lac declared that death resulted from clotting of blood in an artery, which caused gangrene in a large portion of the small intestine.

Judge Lueck was born in 1871 at Juneau, Wis., and studied law at the University of Wisconsin. He was appointed to the Circuit bench in 1907 and served until 1922. He polled 217,550 votes against Blaine's 412,255 for governor in 1924. The Democrats have but eight days in which to select a new candidate.

100,000 Jam City's Beaches; Four Drowned

Four deaths by drowning were reported in the vicinity of Chicago yesterday when the largest crowds of the season congregated on the beaches and inland bathing places in spite of cool lake breezes that forced the mercury down eleven degrees from a maximum of 81 at 11 a. m.

Today, according to the official weather prediction, will be somewhat unsettled, with probably an occasional thunderstorm and higher temperatures.

After the mercury sank to 70 at noon there was a gradual rise again until 6 p. m., when 75 was registered. At 10 p. m. the reading was 74 and the unofficial mark at 2 a. m. was the same. Elsewhere in the middle west maxima of 90 to 100 degrees were reached.

6 DEATHS, HEAVY PROPERTY LOSS IN EASTERN STORM

New York, July 18.—(AP)—Six deaths and property losses estimated at a quarter of a million dollars resulted from a severe electrical storm which swept New York and New England late today. A score of persons were injured, one perhaps fatally, and three are reported missing.

The storm moved from Pennsylvania to Maine, wrecking buildings, tearing up trees, capsizing boats, flooding roads, paralyzing telephone, telegraph, light and trolley service and destroying crops. A 100 mile gale was reported off the New Jersey coast with heavy hailstorms in New England.

Three persons were killed by lightning, one by a falling tree, and two were drowned. Three boys are believed to have been lost in a canoe off Sandy Hook. A dozen were rescued from capsized craft in and around New York.

FIRES MAID, BUT NEEDS COPS TO MAKE IT GOOD

Although Mrs. I. A. Archambault of 821 Madison street, Evanston, fired a maid last night, she had to call in the police to make the order stick.

Sadie Dupree, whom she hired only two days ago, went into the basement of the Archambault home to wash clothes for the Archambault baby. She remained a long time and Mr. Archambault became impatient for his evening meal. So his wife called to Sadie that it was time to cease washing and to begin cooking.

"The clothes have got to—hic—be cooked thirty minutes down here," said Sadie. "I can't come up out of this cellar. I like it here."

Mrs. Archambault looked down. Beside the maid was a bottle that still had a little red wine in it. The mistress informed Sadie she was discharged.

"I won't quit," said Sadie, "till I finish this washing and this bottle." Then came the police and ousted her from her basement, and after lecturing her, let her go, out of a job but unrepentant.

15,000 MOB JAP GOVERNOR; LEAVE HIM FOR DEAD

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
TOKYO, July 18.—In Nagano, a city 100 miles west of Tokyo, 15,000 persons today staged violent riots against the retrenchment policy of Gov. Umetani.

The mob stormed the governor's residence, throwing the executive from the balcony to the ground, where they beat him into insensibility with their heavy wooden footgear.

Believing Gov. Umetani to be dead, the rioters marched to the residence of the chief of police, and, failing to find him, wrecked his house.

The local newspaper, announcing the riot, was raided. Though the staff escaped, the plant was smashed. The governor recovering consciousness, telegraphed for troops and a nearby regiment is proceeding to the scene.

Guest at Drinking Party Is Killed in 3 Story Fall

Charles Oscar Nelson, 45 years old, 2532 West Monroe street, was killed early this morning when at the height of a drinking bout in the home of Edward Hagen, 45, 2058 West Harrison street, he fell or was shoved out of a third-story window. Hagen, his wife, Maudie, Carrie Flynn, and Earl Williams, guests at the party, were taken into custody but were unable to make coherent statements to the police.

Prominent Utah Woman Falls 10 Stories to Death

Salt Lake City, July 18.—Mrs. Helen Gillespie Gates, 42 years old, wife of Louis S. Gates, vice president and general manager of the Utah Copper company, was killed today when she fell ten stories from the Hotel Utah, to the pavement below.

Family Party Held Up by Home Bandit

Five women and two men, playing cards on the porch of the home of Anthony Kremer, 6424 Ridge boulevard, only a short distance from the residence of Chief of Police Collins, were interrupted last night by a lone, rude ex-convict with a pistol. Entering through the kitchen, he forced them to step from the porch into the living room and to draw down the shades. Then he robbed them of their money and jewelry at his leisure.

A few minutes later, as he slunk along in the shadows at Paulina street and Devon avenue, he was seen by Policeman Dominick Cafferetta of the Rogers Park station. The latter was riding the rear end of a patrol wagon sent out to catch the bandit after his raid had been reported.

Caught with Loot in Pockets.

Cafferetta leaped from the vehicle as it passed at 30 miles an hour. Drawing his pistol, he ran up to the robber, forced his surrender before he could unlimber his own weapon and found the loot in his possession. He and the plunder were later identified by the victims.

Present at the party were Kremer's step-daughters, Miss Bertha, Anna, and Helen Trausch; Henry E. Mann, his wife, Mrs. Margaret Mann, and Miss Minnie Victor, all of 6731 Meadow Lane, and Fritz Schwartz, 6424 Ridge boulevard.

Miss Bertha Trausch was in the kitchen preparing a lunch when the bandit entered. He commanded her to be quiet and preceded him to the porch where the others were playing. She obeyed.

Menaces Seven with Gun.

He took his stand at the entrance to the living room and menaced the seven, holding his revolver low so that it would not be seen by the hundreds of autists who were passing.

"There's too much light here," he growled. "Step inside. Put up your hands and nothing happens to you. But if you try to call anybody I'll kill you. I didn't stay in stir twelve years for nothing."

Again he was obeyed. The shades were drawn down at his order. From the men he took watches and $30. From Miss Victor he obtained a ring, from Mrs. Mann a watch and ring, and from the Archambault sisters their wrist watches and several romances which they valued for association with the recent Eucharistic congress. He left warning his victims to remain quiet.

Robber an Ex-Convict.

The Rogers Park police were notified. A squad in a swift car, commanded by Lieut. Edward Tuohy, took one route to the Kremer home and missed the bandit. The patrol wagon took another route, but the man would have been missed if Cafferetta's quick eye had not noted him as he sped along.

The robber said he was Victor Nelson, 2845 McLean avenue, and added that he had left the penitentiary only a few months ago. When Policeman Cafferetta reached him he was still holding in his right hand one of the roses he had taken from the Trausch sisters. Cafferetta had his gun on the robber before the latter could switch the beads to his pocket and his pistol to his hand.

MIDGET BANDIT BLASTS WALL TO DODGE GALLOWS

Post Shotgun Guard; Prisoners in Panic.

Smuggled dynamite, fashioned into a bomb and believed to have been set by Henry J. Feneke, the midget bandit, in an attempt to escape his impending doom on the gallows, yesterday blew a fifteen inch hole in the west wall of the old county jail.

A few inches of brick in the foot thick wall held fast against the terrific blast, however, and the plot was foiled—a plot which might have loosed upon society a man of five murders and innumerable robberies; the leader of a nationwide clique of bank bandits, and one of the most persevering and cunning escape artists behind prison bars.

Uproar Among Prisoners.

With the explosion there sprang up a tremendous commotion, both inside the jail and out, such as has not been witnessed since the jail delivery which five years ago slipped Tommy O'Connor, on the eve of his execution, to the mysterious void which still shields him from the ever waiting noose.

Fearful that the bomb had shattered the wall and had opened to the prisoners a broad way into the free world, Assistant Warden Fred Springer and a dozen guards, all armed with repeating shotguns, a moment after the report had echoed away sprang out to surround the jail.

Word was flashed to the detective bureau, and ten squads of detectives were at the jail within a few minutes. Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman, notified at his home in Des Plaines, rushed to the jail at sixty miles an hour, guided through the dense traffic by Highway Deputy Sheriff Hils Soderholm on a motorcycle. Fifteen motorcycle deputies were picked up by the sheriff on his way in.

Guards Ordered to Kill.

Hundreds of citizens, attracted by the blast, which was heard for blocks around the jail, came quickly to the scene, and remained to gaze at the shotguns of the guards and police who had been ordered by Deputy Warden Springer to shoot to kill the first prisoner attempting an escape.

Inside the jail, audible to the crowds without, the prisoners heard the explosion and in a panicky fear that the roof of the rotting old structure would tumble down upon them, set up a wild clamor of shrieks and yells, milling about in cells and bull pens, and raising a mighty uproar.

And then it was seen that the bomb had not quite penetrated the wall, which has stood staunchly since the early '80s, and that none could escape.

So each prisoner was locked in his cell, and Sheriff Hoffman, Warden George Weidling, Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker, and Deputy Chief John Stege began an investigation.

Facts Point to Feneke.

Every lead pointed to Midget Feneke. He was one of the only five prisoners exercising in the bombed chamber. No other has the gall of death hanging over him; nor the skill of the dynamiter that is Feneke's; nor the desperate record of the killer. The other four prisoners in the chamber were criminals who had turned state's evidence, and all expect clemency and early liberty.

So it came back to Feneke, in whose cell only four months ago were discovered three dynamite percussion caps, a bottle of nitroglycerin, a steel saw, a file, a roll of wire, and a razor. Not long before that Feneke had attempted to escape from the bullpen of Judge William N. Gemmill's courtroom by crawling over a transom.

Feneke was questioned and in unwise, intelligent, defiant strain, denied he had placed the bomb, denied he had made a beeline for the spot immediately after the explosion, as other prisoners testified he did, and asserted he stood calmly by until order was restored.

Bomb Evidence Is Found.

Then his cell was searched, and the guards found a cup of paraffin which had recently been heated by matches and a handful of nitro powder. Both of which, according to Deputy Stege, are used in making a dynamite bomb.

As the scene was laid just before the explosive was set off locked gate separated them from Fernekes, who was in the section under the guard of Frank Oulehla.

In the middle of the tier is the jail hospital, and there in a cell was Frankie McElrath, the booze lord who is staging a desperate fight to evade extradition to Indiana, where the authorities want to try him for murder.

All was quiet in the chamber, just a faint echo of the noise from other prisoners playing ball in the bull pen of the gallows chamber, not far distant, reaching there.

Deafening Blast Reeds Air. Suddenly a deafening blast crashed down upon the ears of the men in the chamber, and one of the four men in the "Stumble Inn" was seen to drop to the floor. He afterward said he thought he was shot.

Shreds of a pair of blankets torn to ribbons by the blast—they had been wrapped about the bomb—and pieces of splintered steel and brick flew like shrapnel about the place. A heavy wire grating was torn away. A hole was blown in the steel flooring of the second tier, on the very end of which the bomb was laid. Ten inches of brick was torn away. Two inches more and a hole would have been made at a scant ten foot drop to the alleyway which runs between Austin avenue and Illinois street.

Dense smoke filled the chamber, and through it came the frightened yells of the four men inside.

Guard Oulehla touched a button, sounding a general alarm, and then, because he feared the alarm would not work, he unlocked the gate leading to the new jail and started to take the alarm to the deputy warden. A frantic prisoner, a workman, managed to squeeze through the gate with Oulehla, who turned to lock it behind him.

Meanwhile Guard Krueger unlocked the gate of "Stumble Inn" and let his four charges through. They went as far as the gate locked by Oulehla and then awaited his return.

Saw Fernekes Make Dash. Fernekes was supposed to be waiting there also, and he insisted he was. The prisoners and Krueger were too excited to be sure whether or not. But the investigators were sure, he was not.

Several prisoners in the second tier of cells testified at the investigation that they had seen Fernekes run past them toward where the bomb had exploded, and not more than a second or two after it exploded, and the officials were positive that Fernekes had leaped for freedom the moment he heard the bomb, dashing up the stairway to the second tier and down it to the end, there to find disappointment and failure, for a few bricks and mortar held him from cherished liberty.

As soon as he realized his failure, Fernekes ran down the end stairs and through the gate unlocked by Krueger back to where the guard and the four prisoners were waiting, the officials reasoned.

Trace Fernekes' Movements. Fernekes' actions immediately after being released from his cell at 12:05 yesterday noon were traced by the officials as follows:

First getting his luncheon, Fernekes maneuvered past the guard, Oulehla, and slipped to an upper tier, probably the third, on which it was supposed he had hidden the dynamite bomb. Slipping it under his shirt, it took but a moment to run down to the end of the tier, drop the bomb, light the fuse, and smelter back to Oulehla. Then, at the moment the bomb struck, he was off again.

Oulehla, questioned closely by Sheriff Hoffman, admitted that Fernekes might have slipped past him.

"I was forced to open the far gate several times to let workmen through with food," he said, "and Fernekes might have gotten to the upper tiers without my noticing it."

How the dynamite was smuggled into the jail is a mystery perhaps never to be solved, for certainly Fernekes will not tell it. But the killer had visitors on Saturday, and it was believed they had smuggled the explosive

Foil Four Desperate Fernekes Plots

Four plots, each cunningly laid, have been set in motion to effect the escape from the county jail of the midwest bandit, Henry J. Fernekes. One, tipped off to the police, caused a change in plans for bringing him to trial. Two others were frustrated in the nick of time.

The last one came nearest to success, and but for a few stupidly laid bricks that withstood a terrific blast of dynamite, Fernekes today would have been a fugitive from the gallows.

Fernekes was arrested on April 18, 1925, while browsing over chemistry textbooks in the John Crerar library on Michigan avenue. He was identified as the leader of a band that had robbed dozens of banks in several cities and as the murderer of five men.

A week after Fernekes' capture, Chief of Detectives Schoemaker exposed a scheme by which the bandit's confederates planned to rescue him from the police who were to take him to New York to stand trial for the murder of two bank officers there.

Later it was decided to bring Fernekes to trial here for the murder of Michael Swionkowski, treasurer of a building and loan association which Fernekes robbed two years ago.

During the trial presided over by Judge William N. Gemmill, a bailiff discovered that the heavy wire grating was missing over a transom in the bull pen adjoining the courtroom in which Fernekes and his co-defendants, John Flannery and Daniel McGeehan, were wont to await the pleasure of the court. The theory was that Fernekes' pals had slipped into the courtroom and removed the grating. Fernekes was about to climb through the transom to freedom when the bailiff made his discovery. The jury voted death for Fernekes and the two others.

Last January Warden Weidling received information that caused him to search the condemned man's cell. He found steel saws, dynamite percussion caps, a file, a razor, and a coil of wire. The warden also learned that Fernekes had obtained a wax impression of the keyhole in the gate leading over the bridge of sight to the Criminal Courts building. It required little deduction to decide that Fernekes planned to saw his cell bars, win his way to the bridge and drop out the court building windows to freedom.

Little can be done to absolutely guarantee against accidents. The guards are paid only $140 monthly and work in a squalid, mordid atmosphere, the sheriff pointed out, and he earnestly recommended to Judge Lynch that the salaries be raised to double the present rate so that more efficient men would apply, and that the force also should be doubled.

Some Recent Lapses. Some of the recent lapses from the orderly processes of the jail routine are the following:

June 21—Emil Hanke, a jail guard, was arrested on a charge of bootlegging liquor to prisoners.

June 24—Warden Weidling admitted to Judge Harry B. Miller that Martin J. Durkin, convicted slayer, had obtained liquor in the jail.

July 16—Frank McElrath, beer peddler awaiting transfer to Indiana on a murder charge, appeared in a drunken frenzy before Judge John P. McGorrey. One of his guards was also drunk, and he and another guard have been discharged as a result.

The four prisoners who were in "Stumble Inn" at the time of the bombing are Charles Zimmerman, who said he worked as a stunt man at movie studios and is in for accessory to robbery; John Pfeiffer, a check kitter; Arthur Gamache, and Roy Wibleston, charged with robbery with a gun.

They all asserted they had been sauntering about the flag, and that they saw no one place the bomb. They are state's witnesses and for that reason cannot be executed with the other prisoners, who would beat them as informers, the warden said.

Lady Barber Is Anxious. A touch of humor was lent to the excitement when a man came to the jail bearing a note from Gladys Wilson, owner of a lady barber shop opposite the East Chicago avenue police station.

"I have just heard that the Cook county jail was bombed," the note said. "Will you please let me know if a bomber who wrecked my barber shop escaped?"

Capt. Stage said she undoubtedly referred to Joseph M. Sangerman, head of an alleged bombers' trust which, it is charged, had bombed the Wilson barber shop three times.

"Tell her that Sangerman is safe—in his grave," Stage told the messenger, Oscar Levy. "Sangerman died two months ago, before he could be tried for the bombings."

MOTORISTS GET CHANCE TO TRAP TRAPPERS TODAY

Called In by Prosecutor to Tell of Extortion.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

The first motorist witnesses, summoned by Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller in the Cook county speed trap investigation, are to appear today to substantiate their grand jury evidence. According to the prosecutor, more than a dozen victims and witnesses will be questioned on their charges of illegal fee collections, brutality and abuses of motor law enforcement.

In the meantime, the thorough inquiry into all highway police practices will continue as originally planned by State's Attorney Crowe for the general clean up. Voluntary reports of false arrest, highway extortion and speed trap methods will be checked against the records shown on village police and court books, and all motorists arrested in the places listed will be sent questionnaires for detailed reports on their experiences.

To Carry Fight to Assembly. All evidence gathered will be kept on file after it has been given to the grand jury and later submitted to the state legislature in support of bills proposing complete abolishment of local traffic control on state highways and the arrest fee system which, authorities declare, is at the bottom of all enforcement evils.

Attorney Joseph H. Braun, general counsel for the Chicago Motor club, yesterday checked over state statutes bearing on the speed trap campaign and announced that brutal and unreasonable highway police officers are directly liable to heavy penalties under the criminal code.

In addition to all regulations found in the highway laws, he said, the criminal code provides a fine of $10,000 for police officers found guilty of "willful and corrupt oppression," and it is mandatory on the state's attorney to prosecute such cases.

Cites Offenses as Punishable. "The beating up of motorists, holding them in jail without sufficient cause and shaking them down on the open road certainly can be classed as 'willful and corrupt oppression,' and should be easily proved. There are a half dozen or more clear statutes under which speed trappers can be prosecuted, removed from office and jailed."

The speed trap war spread into Indiana yesterday when the Lake county branch of the Motor club called a special executive committee meeting. The following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, motorists all over the country are being forced to pay fines and court costs for trivial offenses and police officers and constables make a practice of hiding in ambush and falling in the meantime to patrol the road;

"Resolved, that we urge the state's attorney to take prompt action to have the highway laws amended so that the police officers and constables who are guilty of such offenses shall be liable to heavy penalties under the criminal code."

3,200 ORPHANS TO BE PICNIC GUESTS OF AUTO OWNERS

Every automobile owner in Chicago will have a chance to share in the good time provided once a year by the Orphan's Automobile Day association, through the invitation extended by that organization to all motorists to assist in the annual frolic on Aug. 18 in Lincoln park.

In the early days of the automobile industry, when it was something of a distinction to ride in a horseless carriage, the idea of the annual celebration was conceived by a group of the pioneer automobile dealers to give pleasure to the orphans in a south side institution.

This year approximately 3,200 orphans will be guests of the association, and in addition 800 old people living in homes for the aged will be invited. Charles E. Gregory, 2257 Michigan avenue, president of the association, is recruiting the necessary cars and raising a fund to provide picnic victuals.

and whereas these officers are often not in uniform and the operators of speed traps have no intention of enforcing the law and preventing accidents, it is resolved that the Lake county branch of the Chicago Motor club condemn this practice and do everything within its power to see that officers are placed in full uniform; that they patrol the roads and seek to regulate traffic rather than ride for the sole purpose of collecting revenue."

WRECK TIES UP TRAFFIC. Washington, D. C., July 18.—(P)—Derailment of twenty-three cars of a Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac freight train five miles south of Alexandria, Va., delayed north and south bound traffic for several hours. None of the train crew was injured.

HERE'S HOW RITZ KEEPS ANDREWS IN ICE WATER

LONDON, July 18.—(P)—The largest cut glass pitcher at the Ritz has become known as "The General" since doing duty day and night, filled with ice water, in the suites occupied by Brig. Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, chief of the prohibition enforcement service of the United States.

The Ritz and most other hotels in London patronized by Americans serve ice water in their restaurants summer and winter, but they lack arrangements for bellboys to carry the tinkling pitchers to the rooms.

Gen. Andrews reached London during one of the hottest spells in several years, so when he requested a constant supply of ice water the head waiter was appealed to. That functionary unearthed the largest cut glass pitcher in the hotel.

JAPAN WILL TRY U. S. MISSIONARY WHOBRANDEDBOY. TOKIO, July 18.—(P)—The trial of Dr. C. A. Haysmelt, American medical missionary, stationed at Pingyang, Corea, on charges of cruelty, has been set for July 27.

The charges were lodged, the department of justice here was notified July 13, in connection with the missionary's action in branding a small Korean boy with the Korean word for "chief" on both cheeks with acid after he had caught the boy stealing apples.

It is understood that the missionaries in Corea of the Seventh Day Adventist church voted in favor of Dr. Haysmelt's recall to the United States. Word of his dismissal by the mission board in America was received here today.

VENGE MOTIVE SEEN IN EFFORT TO SLAY "FENCE"

Revenge for an unsatisfactory split in the proceeds of a burglary or robbery is believed by the police to have been the motive for an attempt to assassinate Max Wagman, ex-convict and gangster, as he sat in his home at 1659 West Monroe street early yesterday.

A curtained automobile drew up at the curb and without warning a dozen or more shots were fired at the window of Wagman's room. Several bullets narrowly missed him. The would be killers also poured a hail of bullets into Wagman's automobile, which was parked in front of his home.

Wagman was sentenced to the penitentiary in 1922 for receiving stolen property. Testimony showed that he had furnished burglars with revolvers and persuaded them to steal under contract. Then, when the job was completed, he would take back the weapons and purchase the loot at a small percentage of its value. Now, he claims, he is going straight.

YANK AND WIFE BATTLE TARTAR CATTLE THIEVES

Day's Fight Won by Near East Relief Workers.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 18.—(AP)—An experience recalling wild west days, in which two American Near East Relief workers, Jaul H. Phillips of Seattle, Wash., and his wife, had a narrow escape in a fight with raiding Tartars in Russian Armenia is related in messages from Erivan to the Near East Relief offices in Constantinople.

Mr. Phillips, who superintends the relief organization's model ranch at Karakalla, was aroused one morning by excited orphan employees crying that Tartar tribesmen from Azerbaijan had crossed the mountains in the night and were raiding the ranch.

American Opens Fire.
Mr. Phillips, who often had encountered cattle thieves in the northwest, picked up his rifle and hurried out, to see the Tartars driving away prize Swiss stock imported by the Americans to improve Armenia's breed.

Thinking to frighten the thieves, he opened fire, but the raiders, numbering from twenty to thirty, made a stand behind the rocks, and returned the fire.

Alone with his wife and a few orphans, Mr. Phillips realized they were outnumbered and that darkness might prove disastrous. He therefore dispatched the eldest boy on horse to the nearest American relief post, eighteen miles away.

Tribesman Beats Mrs. Phillips.
In the subsequent fighting Mrs. Phillips was severely beaten by a tribesman. Throughout the day the sniping and stalking continued, and when it was growing dusk the situation became desperate.

Suddenly, another relief worker, William Cronin, of New Haven, Conn., appeared over the hills with a company of cavalry. They rushed down on the tribesmen, shooting some of them and clearing the American ranch of the invaders.

A charge of speeding was placed against Garvin and one of disorderly conduct against Mrs. O'Banion, because Motorcycle Policeman C. H. Seiler said she eased him. Their cases will be heard this morning in Town Hall court.

WETS MENACE CONSTITUTIONAL RULE, BORAH SAYS

Sees a World Attack on Government by Law.

Augusta, Ga., July 18.—(AP)—A warning that constitutional government is faced by an almost world-wide attack was given here today by Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho), who said its enemy in this country was openly preaching nullification of the prohibition amendment.

Bolshevism in Russia, fascism in Italy, military dictatorship in Poland, and nullification in the United States, he asserted, "are whips from the same kennel, barking at the same thing—constitutional government."

SENATOR BORAH.

Speaking under auspices of the Protestant Ministers' association, the Idaho senator said that referendums on the prohibition question, such as that to be held in New York state, were "for the purpose of undermining and destroying the constitution through nullification." There has never been a time when men should stand so firm in defense of law and order, he declared.

"Instead of a modification of the Volstead act, we now have the nullification of the constitution. Instead of non-intoxicating liquor within the constitution, the demand is now for intoxicating liquor in defiance of the constitution.

Defines the Real Issue.

"The same leaders who asked in the beginning for modification within the constitution, now declare that they will have intoxicating liquor, constitution or no constitution, Volstead act or no Volstead act. This is the issue that we now have to meet.

"It may be that it is within the power of the liquor interests to amend the constitution, a thing which it is well within their right to undertake and within possibilities to achieve. But I take the privilege of asserting, and without fear of the future, that it is not within the power of the liquor interests to nullify the constitution.

"If the eighteenth amendment was an injudicious distribution of power between the state and national governments, the people can take it out of the constitution by the same process they wrote it in. If a mistake was made, the people can be shown that it was a mistake, and they are wise enough and brave enough to take it out.

Can't Excuse Nullification.

"If, on the other hand, after reconsideration and further reflection, the people conclude it was not a mistake, then under proper and sincere leadership the people will live up to it. There is no possible excuse to involve nullification. There is no law, there is no provision of the constitution which may not be rewritten or wholly expunged. To preach nullification is to preach lawlessness—ancient and persistent enemy of all republics.

"What are the arguments against following orderly procedure of amending the constitution? They are familiar arguments. They are the practices which are making a hell of Europe today. First is that it will take too long, and that the method is tedious and cumbersome. It is said the eighteenth amendment is against conscience, oppressive, therefore disregarded.

"This is the precise argument which nullified contracts and the law of property in Russia. We are told the people are fanatics or wanting in judgment, and that they may not repeal the amendment—that is the basis of military rule in Poland.

Attacks New York Referendum.

"If adversaries of the amendment would submit a referendum in their respective states for repeal of it, they would be pursuing a course not subject to criticism, an orderly, dignified course. But their referendums in the form submitted are for the purpose of undermining and destroying the constitution through nullification.

"This is the exact meaning of the proposed referendum in the state of New York, to be followed, we are told, by similar referendums in other states.

The people are not being asked to express themselves in favor of amending the constitution, but in favor of the states respectively construing and enforcing the constitution."

DEVER TALKS TO 12,000 POLES AT ANNUAL FESTIVAL

Mayor William E. Dever, speaking yesterday to more than 12,000 Chicagoans of Polish descent at the Polish day celebration at Riverview park picnic grounds, paid tribute to the loyalty of the Poles as American citizens, and declared it quite possible for a man to be a one hundred per cent American, even though born in a foreign country.

George E. Brennan, Democratic candidate for the United States senate, was another speaker. Edward J. Prebis, president of the Chicago chapter of the Polish National alliance, under whose auspices the celebration was held, opened the program with an address of welcome.

Proceeds of the festival will be given to Polish institutions and will also provide scholarships at institutions of higher learning for boys and girls of Polish descent.

Alleged Slayer Captured; Police Seek His Accuser

James Barclay, former night watchman at the Modern laundry, 58th and Halsted streets, is being sought by police to aid in the identification of Joseph Bushell, who is accused of killing Arthur Long, manager of the laundry, in a holdup a year ago. Barclay, who was a witness to the slaying, identified a photograph of Bushell as the one who shot Long and George Vogt, another night watchman, who later died. Bushell was captured Saturday in a south side hotel.

MAHON OUTLINES UNION'S STAND ON "WAGE ISSUE"

Talk of Strike as Conferences Continue.

Prospects of a strike on Chicago's transit and surface lines are seriously remote, W. D. Mahon, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electrical Railway Employees said yesterday in continuing negotiations his union is in conflict with traction companies. Mahon, old age and death benefits for the men and their families as wages are involved in the negotiations and failure to arrive at mutual agreement will send all questions to arbitration for decision. Mr. Mahon

Our reason for adjourning our conference with the elevated company last day was because we have some important requests before the elevated surface companies for consideration. He said.

Entitled to Protection.

We believe that men who give their lives to an occupation like this should be fully protected by the industry, not only by a wage while they are strong and hearty, but also by a wage when they are old and in case of sickness or injury or in case of death that their children should be protected.

These employees have never had a sufficient to protect them against conditions and we have requested the companies to establish this of protection for their employees. As we went into conference with the company we found that very little consideration had been given to these important questions either by the company or by the company and therefore we adjourned until Monday in order that both sides could give careful consideration to data and figures the cost of these propositions.

Not a Question of Strike.

As I said the other day, it is not a question of a strike. We are calmly and intelligently considering these questions in conference and then if we cannot mutually agree upon them we will go to arbitration, where all the data and figures concerning the cost of how they shall operate will be presented and the board of arbitration will determine them.

In the wage negotiations the carmen asking a 5 cent increase in hourly wage scale which is 70, 75 and 80 cents, depending on the length of service, with a 75 cent wage for men on the "L" lines.

Policeman John Dahaga of the Maxwell street station, yesterday caught a Negro who had snatched a purse from Mrs. Ella Haberman, 1444 Washburne avenue, after firing several shots in the chase. REV. WILLIAMS TO EDITOR DALE OFF PUSH CRUSADES TO SEEK WRIT IN DESPITE B. G. A. CONTEMPT CASE

Either with or without the Better Government association, the Rev. Elmer L. Williams says he intends to continue being a reform crusader. The Rev. Mr. Williams at first expressed surprise when he read reports that he was soon to quit the B. G. A., either by choice or necessity. But he had heard the reports before and he picked his words with care as he discussed them.

"Either with or without the Better Government association I expect to carry on with my social ministry in Chicago," he said. "My position in the organization at this time does not permit me to make a statement concerning what may be the plans of the board of directors. If they have any such plans as indicated in the reports they have not communicated them to me."

George R. Dale, militant editor of Muncie, Ind., who spent Saturday and Sunday in Chicago conferring with friends here in regard to his fight to escape the sentence imposed on him for alleged contempt of court through the "truth is no defense" decision of the Indiana Supreme court, left last night for Indianapolis, where a petition will be filed this morning for a writ of error in the previous hearings. On this writ his attorney, W. V. Rooker, hopes to carry the litigation into the Supreme court of the United States.

An additional contribution received by Taw Tawson for Mr. Dale's assistance is $1 from George F. Costello, bringing the total received to $41.

Business Viewpoint Must Govern Advertising

It is now generally understood that a knowledge of technical detail and an ability to write brightly is not enough in advertising. Those who would qualify in the real sphere of the advertising agency must also understand business, the Executive Viewpoint, the Distribution System, and the Consuming Public.

Inevitably, this makes for a preference for the organization that has experience, that has contact with practical business men, that has adequate facilities, that has a balanced personnel.

Because that is so, this 22-year-old, completely rounded organization, headed by three executives actively supervising all accounts, is having a growing recognition.

FILIPINO OFFERS TO BARTER LANDS FOR AUTONOMY

Another Bill Asks Islands to Outlaw Evolution.

BY PARKE BROWN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

MANILA, July 18.—The first tangible reaction to Col. Carmi Thompson's mission as personal investigator of Philippine conditions for President Coolidge was seen in the introduction of a bill by Representative Leonard Festin of Romblon offering to remove the restriction on ownership of land by foreign corporations, to be effective "on the day the United States grants the Philippines their independence."

The present land law limits corporations to 2,500 acres. This law originally was passed by the United States congress, which has power to annul it without reference to the will of the Philippine legislature.

Reveal Filipino Attitude.

In local circles the new bill is regarded as unlikely to result in action, but is considered somewhat significant as tending to show a willingness on the part of the Filipinos to strike a bargain in economic matters in return for further political concessions. Coincidentally with the introduction of Representative Festin's bill, the Philippines entered the family of civilized nations by the introduction of another house bill to bar the teaching of evolution in public schools. Pastor E. Noel, representative from Cebu, attacked the measure, which says in an introductory note: "The Filipino people are Christians and firmly believe the story of the origin of man as narrated in the holy scriptures. The theory of evolution evidently opposes and denies this fundamental belief. Therefore, to teach it in schools supported in whole or in part by the money of the people who repudiate it is unwise, futile, and preposterous."

The bill was referred to a committee.

Will Begin Tour on Thursday.

Col. Thompson's party, after a conference with Gov. Gen. Leonard Wood, announced that it will leave for Mindoro and Palawan Thursday night and will visit the Culion leper colony, returning to Manila on Monday, probably spending next week here and then going by motor through northern Luzon. It is understood that Gov. Wood will not accompany the party to Mindoro or Culion.

Senator McKinley Too Ill
to Appear at Reed's Inquiry

Washington, D. C., July 18.—[Special.]—Senator William B. McKinley will not be well enough to go to Chicago in time to testify before the Reed campaign fund investigation committee, which begins its next hearing July 26. It was stated at his Washington home today. Senator McKinley has been ill since shortly after his defeat in the Republican primaries in Illinois last April. He is now slowly improving at his home.

45 CHICAGO COUPLES WED AT VALPARAISO OVER THE WEEK-END

A run on the marriage license bureau of Valparaiso, Ind., over this week-end resulted in the wedding of forty-five Chicago couples, which brings the number of marriages performed at that Gretna Green since the first of the year to about 2,000. June, the month of brides, the double holidays of Memorial day and July fourth, and the recent Elks convention in Chicago helped to swell the total.

The five day interval required by the Michigan statutes between the securing of a license and the wedding, the eugenic legislation in Wisconsin, necessitating a physical examination before marriage, and similar laws in other neighboring states are cited as the main reasons for the double ring of automobiles that surrounded the courthouse at Valparaiso all day July 4.

NEGRO IS SHOT AFTER SMALL GIRL IS ATTACKED

A few hours after an attack on an eleven year old white girl, who was kidnapped from her home at 2:30 o'clock in the morning, William Barber, 27, a colored janitor, was shot twice yesterday by detectives as he was attempting to escape.

Stealing through an open window into a bedroom where she was sleeping with two small brothers, Barber is accused of dragging the little girl out of the window.

Staggering back to her home, she awakened her parents and gave a good description of the Negro. The parents called the Maxwell street station.

At 6 a. m. police officers found Barber in the building at 1412 Newberry street, where he is employed. His description tallied in every respect with that furnished by the girl.

The Negro, who denies his guilt, fled from the police and was shot. The police then saved him from several of the girl's relatives.

PUBLIC HEARINGS START TODAY TO ELECTRIFY ROADS

Rail Officials to Be Heard on Great Improvement.

Chicago will take its first official step toward electrifying its railroads today when Mayor Dever opens the first of a series of public hearings to be held by a special electrification committee of the city council on July 19, 20, 21, and 22.

Nearly all of the railway chiefs, engineering experts, and civic leaders invited to the meetings have accepted. Ald. Jacob Arvey, chairman of the committee, reported yesterday. Only two or three cannot be present, he said, and they have agreed to send representatives.

The specific objectives of the hearings are: First, to ascertain the attitude of the railroads toward abatement of the smoke evil; second, to find out the feasibility of a comprehensive city-wide electrification program to be carried out by persuasion, or, if necessary, by force.

Committee Will Listen.
To these ends the aldermen have invited the railroad and business men to come in and outline their ideas. No talking will be done by the committee-men save to ask questions. The committee hopes thereby to gather data as a basis for recommendation to be formed later and put before the council for action early in the fall.

Following the opening speech by Mayor Dever, who will point out the vital importance of the problem, William R. Dawes, president of the Association of Commerce, will address the first meeting at 2 p. m. today. Mr. Dawes is expected to summarize the findings set forth in an elaborate report on electrification made by the association a few years ago.

C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central railroad, was also invited to speak at today's meeting, but is to be out of the city. In his stead, the road will be represented by F. L. Thompson, vice president and the engineer in charge of the I. C.'s suburban electrification work.

Arousing Public Interest.
"This first meeting should give us a good sendoff and arouse public interest in the big undertaking," said Ald. Arvey. "Once we get a tide of sentiment behind us I believe we can carry through a program that will really work wonders for the city."

The electrification committee is composed of seven members from each judicial and railway terminals committees. Its personnel is as follows: For judiciary—Arvey, Eaton, McKinlay, Brunson, Barbee, Self, and Nelson. For railway terminals—Kaindl, Anderson, Meyer, O'Toole, Cepak, Mayville, and Hoellen.

CHICAGO'S DEATH RATE HALVED IN HALF A CENTURY

Bundesen on Anniversary Reviews Statistics.

Today, the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the Chicago department of health, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, commissioner, takes occasion to cite the records and to report on the progress made in promoting the cause of good and careful living.

Dr. Bundesen compares the death rate from 1876, when the department was founded, to the present, showing a decrease of more than one-half in Chicago's mortality in the half century.

Death Rate Statistics.
At the close of 1876, the rate per 1,000 population was 23.19 as compared with 11.40, the figure at the close of 1925. In the intervening years the rate decreased bit by bit, or remained at a level. Never did it jump higher.

Since the date of taking office of the present administration of the department, February, 1922, until December, 1925, the death rate decreased 2.31 per cent, the communication as to the cause of death of 25,422 citizens who would have died had not conditions been rectified.

Milk and Water Purified.
Under the present administration Chicago's milk supply has been safeguarded, and scientific experts, working in cooperation with Col. A. A. Sprague and his department of public works, have purified the drinking water, the report continues, adding that such diseases as typhoid fever and diphtheria are fast becoming eradicated. The smoke evil, which once descended like a pall on the city, is becoming lifted, and sunlight, the report says, is getting down to us, giving health and vigor.

POLICE CHIEFS OF NATION HERE FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Hoover Speaks Today on Safety.

Police officials from many of the leading cities of the United States and Canada arrived in Chicago yesterday for the opening today of the 35th annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police at the Congress hotel. The four day convention is expected to be the greatest gathering of police heads in the history of the North American continent.

Yesterday's vanguard included sixteen police superintendents from California cities, headed by San Francisco's famous Dan J. O'Brien, who is slated to be the next president, succeeding S. J. Dickson, chief constable of Toronto, Canada.

Berkeley Chief Arrives.
The California delegation also included Chief August Vollmer of Berkeley, under whom Evanston's college bred chief, W. A. Wiltberger, chairman of exhibits at the convention, served his apprenticeship. Vollmer leaves soon for Cuba to systematize the Havana police department. He has former students scattered all over America now as chiefs in leading cities.

Yesterday's arrivals also included Maj. Richard Sylvester of Washington, first president of the association, who held that job fourteen years (1901-1915). Secretary George Black of Wilmington, Del., and other well known law enforcement chiefs.

Chief Morgan A. Collins, chairman of the reception committee, made a special request yesterday that representatives of all civic organizations, automobile clubs, public officials and others interested in safety on the highways attend the afternoon session at 3 o'clock today to hear Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover discuss traffic regulations and information gleaned through the national conference on highways and highway safety, which Mr. Hoover established.

The secretary is to arrive in Chicago at 10 a. m. today and will be met at his train, the Capitol Limited, by Chiefs Dickson and Collins. His address will be delivered in the gold room of the Congress hotel.

Dawes to Address Banquet.

An elaborate entertainment program has been provided for the visiting police heads. Tonight they have a dinner and entertainment at the Hotel La Salle roof garden. Similar affairs will be held nightly at other hotels.

Vice President Charles G. Dawes will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet Thursday night at the Congress, where all convention sessions will be held. Mayor Dever will deliver the address of welcome today.

The exhibition hall, where all sorts of safety devices, firearms and other equipment used by modern police departments, bombs and paraphernalia used by the underworld and relics of famous crimes are on display, resembles a section of a world's fair. Commercial concerns and police departments from all parts of the country have exhibits.

Free Yank Whose Car Hit Poilu of Murder Charge
NICE, France, July 18.—[AP.]—The charge of first degree murder against Donald Sherwood, New York artist, for having caused the death of Joseph Schoerlin, a French soldier, has been modified to "unintentional manslaughter."

(Schoerlin was struck by Sherwood's automobile on May 25, and subsequently died. An alleged eyewitness, Sgt. Fooka, testified Sherwood clubbed Schoerlin and then drove his automobile over him to make it appear that the soldier's death was accidental.)

Yellow Cab

Founded and operated on Financial Responsibility

Several years ago the State of Illinois discovered that there were many loosely-organized, or so-called cab "companies" operating in this city without the slightest vestige of Financial Responsibility in case of damage to person or property.

Thereupon the Legislature enacted a law compelling the filing of a $2,500.00 bond, or insurance policy, on every public vehicle in order that the traveling public might have redress in case of accident or carelessness.

These so-called cab "companies" balked at this. They didn't want to be held responsible for anything. They couldn't afford it, they said. It costs the property organized cab corporation approximately one and a half cents a mile to establish Financial Responsibility, and that is more than the average profit of the average cab company.

Immediately these so-called cab "companies" hired expensive lawyers and tried to beat the law. It was twice appealed to higher courts and twice affirmed. Now they have it before the United States Supreme Court, where it costs money to take anything. They are hoping that the law will be declared unconstitutional, so they can evade responsibility.

All these so-called cab "companies" have had to do up to date to escape responsibility is to place a mortgage on their cabs, payable to the manufacturer or some fictitious person. Thus they become judgment-proof. The mortgage acts in the nature of a mechanic's lien, and you, the public, can't recover a cent no matter what happens to you in these cabs.

The best protection the public has, according to present conditions, is to patronize the YELLOW CAB with its known and firmly established FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY, and the known integrity and wide interests of its owners and directors.

NEW AFFIDAVITS ON AIMEE'S TRIP READY FOR JURY

Claim to Trace Trail from Sea to Mexico.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 18.—[U. N.]—A chain of affidavits purporting to trace Aimee Semple McPherson's trip from Venice beach, where she says she was kidnapped May 18, to Agua Prieta, Mex., where she reappeared June 22, is ready for presentation to the grand jury which is attempting to determine whether the famous evangelist's alleged abduction was a "prime or a hoax."

The inquiry will be resumed Tuesday with Kenneth Ormiston, former radio operator in charge of Mrs. McPherson's Angelus temple station, as the central figure, although he will not be present. Ormiston is reported to be somewhere in the east. The grand jurors would like to question him, as he is closely linked with the evangelist in several of the affidavits. Thus far officials have been unable to serve him with the grand jury summons.

Has Sufficient Evidence.

Ann Keyes, the district attorney in charge of investigating the McPherson story, says that he has enough evidence in the case to enable the jurors to complete their work. He has asked for no indictments, however, and in event none are voted the jury may be dismissed without making a public report of its findings.

Here is a brief résumé of the evidence that the grand jury will consider: The affidavit of R. L. Vaughn, owner of a resort between San Diego and the Imperial valley, that a woman whom he has identified as the evangelist came to his hotel and asked for secluded apartments only a few days after Mrs. McPherson's disappearance. The woman was accompanied by two men and another woman, Vaughn says, although he cannot identify either of the men as Ormiston. Vaughn claims the quartet rode in a large blue sedan.

Tell of Auto's Passage.

Other affidavits from mayors, police, and garage owners in Arizona and Mexican villages from southern California on east and south mention this same sedan and tell of its passage along a route leading to Agua Prieta. A man resembling Ormiston is mentioned in several of the affidavits, but otherwise there is nothing in the statements to explain why Mrs. McPherson should have gone on the trip voluntarily.

The chain of evidence is not without its missing links, but authorities believe it is strong enough to put Mrs. McPherson on the defensive again. She is said to be gathering evidence intended to show that the woman seen along the way to Agua Prieta was another Los Angeles woman who closely resembles her.

A Special Sale of Living Room Chairs

YOUR living room may need another nice chair or two; there are thousands of living rooms in Chicago that do.

Here's something special for you. Our buyer was so tempted by the opportunity offered by the manufacturers that he bought too many chairs. When we look at the chairs, and realize the prices he paid, we can't blame him so much.

But that doesn't change the fact—we've got too many chairs. We're going to sell them, quick. The prices are so low as to be almost absurd. But every chair is "Scholle quality"; every one carries our regular guaranty of satisfaction.

We have about 100 of these chairs to sell; there are a few duplicates, but they're mostly single pieces. You can't miss getting a bargain; they're all bargains.

We think the supply will not last a day; if you realize the values, they'll all be sold before noon; $38, $28, $18. You couldn't buy them at the factory by the carload at such prices; we couldn't.

If your living room has a needy spot, better come early.

THE STEVENS BUILDING

17 to 25 N. State Street

16 to 20 N. Wabash

CHICAGO'S GREATEST SHOPPING CENTER

—where Increasing Thousands of Discriminating Women
Do their Shopping—Quietly Pleasantly-Satisfactorily

THE Stevens Building stands out and stands alone in Chicago's history. It is the abode of the small shopkeeper with the French idea: The Interest of the Artist in Individual Attention. Every man and woman with a shop in the Stevens Building could be a highly salaried executive in a large organization. Each prefers the quiet and refinement of this distinctive spot, since here he fills the needs of a smaller and more exacting following, and finds delight in doing it. Everything in Apparel and Costume Accessories, with merchandise of every desirable sort, is to be found in the Stevens Building Shops and is always moderate in price when quality and style are taken into account, and yet it is individual.

—Think of It! Twelve Floors of Shops

Each floor is a block long, from State Street to Wabash Avenue, all under a single roof, an avenue in miniature with shop windows along it as if on the street level. Set in Michigan Avenue, these twelve blocks of admirable shops would stretch from Randolph Street to Roosevelt Road. All are filled with artistic and attractive wares—that are different. In many, clearance sales are now going on. And there is no noise, no scuffle, no stop-and-go signal, or dodging of motor cars, no taking of taxis, no crowds, no delays, no weather. One takes an elevator up or down; there is an abundance of elevators. It is not a place Chicago women, any more than visitors, can afford to overlook. For it holds convenience, variety, charm, fascination.

A World's Exposition of the World's Best

Nearly a hundred Apparel and Accessory Shops, each of high character, each with its own character, are here.

Interesting places, besides, to buy Lingerie, Corsets, Shoes, Perfumes, Books, Purses, Jewelry—what you will.

CHICAGO LABOR BARS COMMUNIST TALK IN MEETING

President John Fitzpatrick of the Chicago Federation of Labor yesterday warned Communist delegates to the federation's meetings that they could not have the privilege of addressing members from the floor until they had proved themselves trade-unionists, not Communists.

William Z. Foster, one time Communist candidate for President of the United States, was in Musicians' hall, 118 West Washington street, where the Sunday meetings of the federation are held, but did not join in the controversy, which lasted more than a half hour.

The discussion arose when I. L. Dagan, an organizer for the Ladies Garment Workers' union, invited delegates to attend a protest meeting Thursday against the jailing of some forty members of his union for alleged violation of an antipicketing injunction during the dressmakers' strike of 1924.

Ald. Oscar Nelson, vice president of the federation, asked if the meeting was sponsored by organized labor or the Communist party.

His question being received with cat-calls, the alderman launched into a tirade against the Communists, charging Foster, the head of the party, with bringing about the failure of the garment workers' protest in 1924, and with using the meetings of the federation as a means of spreading propaganda. Foster did not reply.

Frieda Reicher, one of those who has served a sentence as a picket, addressed the meeting, telling the delegates she felt the federation and Gov. Small had not done all they could in aiding the women to escape their jail terms, which were imposed by Judge Dennis E. Sullivan.

While in jail, she said, a telegram had been sent to the federation to be read at its next meeting asking aid for the release or pardon of the women prisoners. This message was not read, she charged, at the instigation of Fitzpatrick and others.

In reply, the federation president said the telegram had been sent to a wrong address and had not reached the federation offices until the day after the meeting.

As the meeting was closing Edward A. Nockels, secretary of the federation, announced that tomorrow evening, between 5 and 6 o'clock, the new federation radio station, WCFL, would come on the air for an hour test.

Fascist Italy Removes Ban on Valentino Films

ROME, July 18.—Films in which Rudolph Valentino appears, which have been barred in Italy owing to a report that the actor was an anti-Fascist, now can be shown in any theater in the country, the president of the Fascist federation for the movies announced today. KLAN CROWDING OTHER ISSUES OFF COLORADO SLATE

Result Is Party Mixup for November.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Denver, Colo., July 18.—[Special.]—Colorado politics is a sweet kettle of goulash this summer. With prospects that in the fall campaign party lines may be wiped out and the Rocky Mountain electorate go blithely to the mat on the chief issue of Ku Klux Klan and anti-klan.

Great strife has arisen within the klan which two years ago managed to permeate the Republican party of the state, and, in the face of the row, farm relief, world court, Volsteadism and other issues paraded in other states have divided off the deep end. There is a growing possibility that the run-up over the klan may mean the loss of a Republican senator, Rice W. Means, who was elected with klan support in 1924.

Basis of the Controversy.

To get a running start at the situation, the wisecracks here go back to 1918 when O. H. Shoup of Colorado Springs was elected Republican governor by less than 10,000, and two years later was re-elected by 73,000 in the year of the Harding landslide.

Mr. Shoup proved one of the most popular governors Colorado has had and he developed a large following among the Democrats. In 1924 the klan elected practically every state officer by about 150,000. The house was klan, the senate anti-klan, and the session was one prolonged row. As fast as the house passed a klan bill the senate would knock it off.

Last July a split developed within the masked order. Dr. John Galen Locke, grand dragon of Colorado, was deposed by Imperial Wizard Evans of Atlanta. After getting the air Dr. Locke at once organized the Minute Men of America. A uniform similar to that of the colonial militia was adopted and a large part of the klanmen threw away their nightshirts and pillow cases and followed Dr. Locke into the new organization.

Began to Take Sides.
Gov. Clarence J. Morley, who was klan, became a minuteman. Some months ago ex-Gov. Shoup came out as a candidate for governor. His platform was anti-klan, an utterance for the elimination of secret masked societies. His appearance was cheered by Democrats as well as Republicans. Judge Ben B. Lindsey, a Democrat of the famous Boys' court, advocated that the Democrats should not put up a candidate of their own but should get behind Shoup.

Under the state primary law party state assemblies designate candidates for the ballot. The Republicans met Aug. 6, the Democrats Aug. 12, and there is an urge to get Shoup the nomination from both parties at the primaries, Sept. 14.

Carl S. Milliken, secretary of state, who abandoned the klan, is running against Shoup for the Republican nomination. One open question is where the Minutemen will stand. When the split in the klan came Senator Means was rated as one of the men responsible for the removal of Dr. Locke as grand dragon. He is generally expected to win over Carl C. Schuyler, a Denver attorney, and Charles W. Waterman, the Coolidge pre-convention manager in Colorado.

On the Democrats' side four candidates are after the senatorship. They are former Gov. William E. Sweet, a millionaire who is strong with the parlor Socialists and the Greenback village pinkies; Paul P. Prosser, an attorney, and Frank Hayes, former president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The regular Democrats, it appears, want to beat Sweet and nominate a candidate acceptable to the anti-klan Republicans if Means should be the Republican nominee. The gossip is that the Democratic assembly, when it meets Aug. 12, may put on ex-Senator Alva Adams, who took an active part in the Teapot Dome investigation.

200 GIRLS SEEK TO BE QUEEN OF S. SIDE PAGEANT

Roosevelt road business men are seeking a queen for their Pageant of Progress, which will be held July 22 to 29, but no beautiful but dumb applicants need apply.

More than 200 girls are already entered in the queen quest, willing to be judged on merits listed as follows: Intelligence, 80 per cent; beauty, 5 per cent; high womanly ideals, 10 per cent; happy disposition, 5 per cent.

A. S. Helquist, president of the Liberty Trust and Savings bank; B. L. Zinder of the Community Trust bank, Julian Bomash of the Independence State bank, B. H. Serkovich of Bala-ban & Katz, and Adolph Breyer will present each girl with the "queen's questionnaire," and each girl will be given from July 22 to Sept. 7 to get enough "merit coupons" to win the crown.

Nearly $1,000 in cash and merchandise prizes will be given to the first twelve girls in the contest on the final day.

Police Hero Captures Two Burglars at Work

Sgt. U. S. FLAG FIRST IN FIGHTING AT STANWIX, CLAIM

Army Unearths Old Record Which Reveals Fact.

Washington, D. C., July 18.—(AP)—Army historians have unearthed evidence that the Stars and Stripes got its first "baptism of fire" in land battle in the defense of Fort Stanwix, N. Y., Aug. 2, 1777. The colors improvised by the garrison appear to have shown both the alternate stripes of red and white and the "stars of glory" set upon a field of blue cut from a "camulet cloak taken from the enemy at Peekskill."

At the request of historical societies, the war department began a search which has brought to light a work entitled "A Narrative of the Military Actions of Col. Marinus Willett," who was a member of the garrison. It describes the necessity for making a flag when the enemy invested the fort, and adds that "A decent one was soon contrived."

"The white stripes were cut out of ammunition shirts; the blue out of the camulet cloak taken from the enemy at Peekskill, while the red stripes were made of different pieces of stuff procured from one and another of the garrison," the narrative says. Quoting a letter written by Lieut. Col. Willett at Hartford, Conn., Aug. 21, 1777, it adds, speaking of the final action at Fort Stanwix on Aug. 6:

"We totally routed two of the enemy's encampments, brought off upward of five colours, the whole of which on our return to the fort were displayed on our flagstaff under the continental flag."

In view of these first hand statements, war department historical authorities are satisfied that the continental flag mentioned was in fact the stars and stripes in its original form."

ALSACE-LORRAINE LOOKS TO LEAGUE FOR AUTONOMY

Favor Appeal to Geneva Against French Rule.

GENEVA, July 18.—(Special.)—Leaders of the recent unsuccessful movement in Alsace-Lorraine to obtain autonomy for the recovered French provinces may, it is believed in some quarters in Alsace, take their cause before the league of nations. That there is a certain amount of sentiment in this direction among these leaders was learned by a staff correspondent of the Associated Press, who has just made a tour of the districts.

Reference of the matter to the league presumably would be fought vigorously by France, while league officials say that even if a petition reaches Geneva, it would not be acted upon and even would not be circulated among league members, since France never signed a minority treaty concerning Alsace.

State Employees Dismissed.
The recent manifesto, couched in violent terms and signed by some hundred residents of Alsace-Lorraine, was serious enough to warrant swift action by the French government. Those who signed the document calling for autonomy, twenty-one—most of them state employees of various kinds—were deprived of their posts or barred from their professions. Twelve clergymen signed the manifesto, but they were not punished because this would have involved diplomatic negotiations with Rome.

Charges German Influence.
Charges that the funds for support of the movement originated in Germany were made by Gen. Bourgeois, the noted Alsatian.

A second manifesto disavowed any intention of launching a separatist movement and repudiated accusations that the autonomy movement was sustained by funds from outside of France and was preliminary to reunification of the territory by Germany.

The leader of the autonomy movement was the vice president of the local parliament when Alsace and Lorraine were under German rule. The organizers formed a "League of the Fatherland." The manifesto called for the formation of a "national minority" and demanded complete autonomy "within the framework of France."

YOUTH DROWNS IN BATHING.
Robert Sloman, 20 years old, was drowned yesterday in a bathtub at his home, 6123 Kenwood avenue. It is believed he suffered an epileptic fit while bathing.

BRENNAN INVADES CORN BELT TO PUSH CAMPAIGN

Wednesday at Bloomington, the buckle of the Illinois corn belt, George E. Brennan, Democratic nominee for United States senator, plans to impart a special message to the farmers and incidentally tell them also why he thinks the Volstead act should be modified or repealed.

Brennan selected Bloomington for his farm speech because it is in the heart of the corn belt and the center of the 17th congressional district, home of his Republican opponent, Frank L. Smith.

The Democratic leader said he picked Bloomington because the place to talk farm relief is right to the farmers themselves in their own backyard. Brennan begins a busy week campaigning in the downstate tomorrow. He starts at Decatur where he will make a speech at the Orlando hotel tomorrow afternoon. On Wednesday he will visit Clinton as well as Bloomington. On Thursday he will visit Lincoln, Yreka, Girard, Carlinville, Gillespie, and Stanton on the way to East St. Louis, where he holds a meeting Friday. He will visit Belleville, Edwardsville, Alton, Madison, and Granite City on Saturday.

ARMY ENGINEERS BEGIN SURVEY OF U. S. SHIP CANAL

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., July 18.—(Special.)—Although congress failed to pass the rivers and harbors bill, providing funds for a new survey of the proposed all-American ship canal connecting the great lakes and the Atlantic via the Hudson river, army engineers are already hard at work on the survey, it was disclosed today.

This work is going on under the direction of separate resolutions passed by the senate commerce committee and the house rivers and harbors committee in the closing days of the session, when it became apparent that the rivers and harbors bill would not be passed. These resolutions have just been turned over to the army and were made public today.

Brig. Gen. Herbert Deakins, assistant chief of engineers, said today that cost figures and estimated economic returns would be worked out for both the 25 and 30 foot projects. Funds for financing the report will be taken from the general fund for use by the department in making surveys.

Passage of the resolutions now makes it virtually certain that all the necessary economic and engineering facts relating to both the St. Lawrence seaway and the New York ship canal, the alternate routes from the great lakes to the Atlantic, will be in the hands of the administration late this year.

This means, proponents of the two routes say, that President Coolidge will be able to choose between the two seaways this winter and place administration support behind the one which

TWO CHICAGOANS BEING HELD BY ST. LOUIS POLICE

Police at St. Louis, Mo., yesterday notified the detective bureau that they had in custody Edward Bentley, 7608 North Ashland avenue, and Michael De Costa, 4894 Sheridan road, described as wanted in connection with the murder of Assistant State's Attorney William H. McSwiggan.

The local police said that neither was involved in the murder, but that they were loungers in the cigar store of Michael Crowe, 1127 Argyle street, which was recently raided by prohibition agents, who discovered a quantity of liquor. The St. Louis authorities were requested to hold them and forward their pictures.

ROADS' VALUES TO MOTORISTS CUT AS JAMS GROW

Autoists Abandon Sunday
Outings, Expert Says.

Fifteen million dollars' worth of highway pavements leading into Chicago are gradually losing their value for Chicago automobile owners as the result of Sunday congestion and the danger and discomforts brought about by narrow 18 foot pavements, according to traffic authorities who made another survey of highway traffic conditions yesterday.

Although roads such as the River road, Milwaukee avenue, Halsted street, Western avenue, Lake street, Waukegan road, and Ogden avenue were jammed almost to suffocation during the holiday rush hours and early last night, observers reported that thousands of city drivers who are in the habit of escaping to the country over the week-end are studiously avoiding the main country pavements and confining their drives to the boulevards.

Others Stay at Home.

Other thousands who a year or so ago found week-end tours into the country the ideal Sunday relaxation leave their cars in the garage to beat the general congestion. Jams on city streets and in Chicago parks have increased 50 per cent this season, according to park police departments, and officers believe that fear of country highway congestion is the major cause for this condition.

"Our observations lead us to believe that Chicago's gateway highways are actually losing their usefulness for city people," said Robert Kingery, secretary of the Chicago regional planning commission, last night. "It is true that from 5 to 8 or 9 p. m. the pavements leading into the city are congested almost to the point of stagnation, but when registration figures are considered it is apparent that Chicago use of the roads is not nearly up to the usual average this year. People are afraid to tackle a Sunday drive and fight their way through bottle necks at the city limits and the slow single lines on the main state pavements."

Engineers' Plans Ready.

Engineers of the association, he added, have practically completed their detailed plans for emergency widening.

LETTERS WRITTEN ON CLAY 3,200 YEARS AGO PLACED ON EXHIBITION

New York, July 18.—[Special.]—Two letters to Akhnaton, the heretic king of Egypt, written on clay tablets which measure only a few inches in their greatest dimension, have been placed on exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. These two letters, with the exception of a fragment of a letter at the University of Chicago, are the only Amarna tablets in America, according to the museum.

The script is the so-called cuneiform, or wedge shaped writing, each tiny wedge being made by the scribe in the soft clay with the end of a reed stylus. After the letters were written the tablets were baked hard and the writing thus preserved. The letters were inscribed some 3,200 years ago.

ings and bridge building in 1926, for the general widening and new entrance ways in 1927, and for the complete regional improvement in the ten years' program. These plans will be studied by the wider highway committee appointed by President Anton J. Cermak of the county board this week, and will be submitted to the board with recommendations for the proposed $15,000,000 county bond issue and immediate board action.

Edward J. Kelly, president of the south park commission; Frank R. Reid, congressman; William Busse, county commissioner; Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, and St. Mayer, president of the North Shore Motor club, have been added to the Cermak committee, he announced last night. A meeting for the consideration of the proposed bond issue and the three traffic relief programs will be called this week by Maj. George A. Quinn, chairman of the committee and superintendent of highways of Cook county.

TALAMONT DIES IN RACE CRASH AT CROWN POINT

Turns Over and Is Hit by Following Car.

Sonny Talamont, 25 year old veteran of the automobile dirt racing tracks, lost his life yesterday at the third of the summer's American Legion races at Crown Point, Ind. The accident occurred as the race driver swerved his car to avoid hitting another, turning his own over, to be crushed by a third car following.

The ten drivers had been flagged down by the judges as they started on the second lap on the half mile track, when it was decided the start had not been true. On seeing the flag two drivers on the back stretch began to slow their cars down. Talamont, driving close behind them, turned to avoid striking them, and his car turned over. A fourth driver, William Arnold of Chicago, could not stop his car which crashed into the wrecked machine of Talamont, passing over the prostrate driver. His skull was crushed. Arnold received a broken shoulder.

Shaw Breaks Record.
The accident was the first fatal one on this track in five years. Talamont was honored a year ago in Crown Point at a celebration. He was recently feted by fellow townsmen at Chicago Heights by the presentation of an expensive racing car, which he was driving yesterday.

Wilbur Shaw, the diminutive Indianapolis driver, raced to a new track record for 2 1/2 miles in one of the feature races. His time was 2:23.5, beating the old mark of 2:29, held by Talamont. Shorty Cantlon of Detroit took second and Louis Schneider of Indianapolis third.

Schneider Was Features.
In feature race at 3 1/2 miles went to Schneider after a long battle with Baumann and Shaw. The time was 3:50.2. A near accident was avoided in the race when Shaw, while battling for the lead with Baumann, suffered a partial heat prostration. Officials observed his condition and flagged him down. Jimmy Cople taking his place. Dutch Baumann finished second in the race, Fred Harder, third, and Roy Ketcham, fourth.

Wilbur Shaw won the second race, which was stopped at four miles after the accident in which Talamont was killed. Shorty Cantlon was second and Ralph Ebstrom of Indianapolis third. The time was 3:53.1. Cantlon took the third race of ten miles from Baumann and Baumann in 9:55.5.

Pilot Critically Injured.
Fred Larson crashed through the fence in practice before the races and was badly cut on the face.

Woodbury's Car Wins.
Danville, Ill., July 18.—(Special.)—The Cliff Woodbury car of Chicago, driven by D. Morris, won the first 5 and final 20 mile race here this afternoon before 10,000 people. Fred Root of Danville was second in the 20 mile race, took first in the second 5 mile even. Several accidents occurred on the track, but no one was seriously injured, although Beny Shoaff, of Springfield, crashed into a dead car in the middle of the track in front of the grandstands, turning over twice. Shoaff was uninjured.

Sarazen Ties Smith Twice for Golf Title

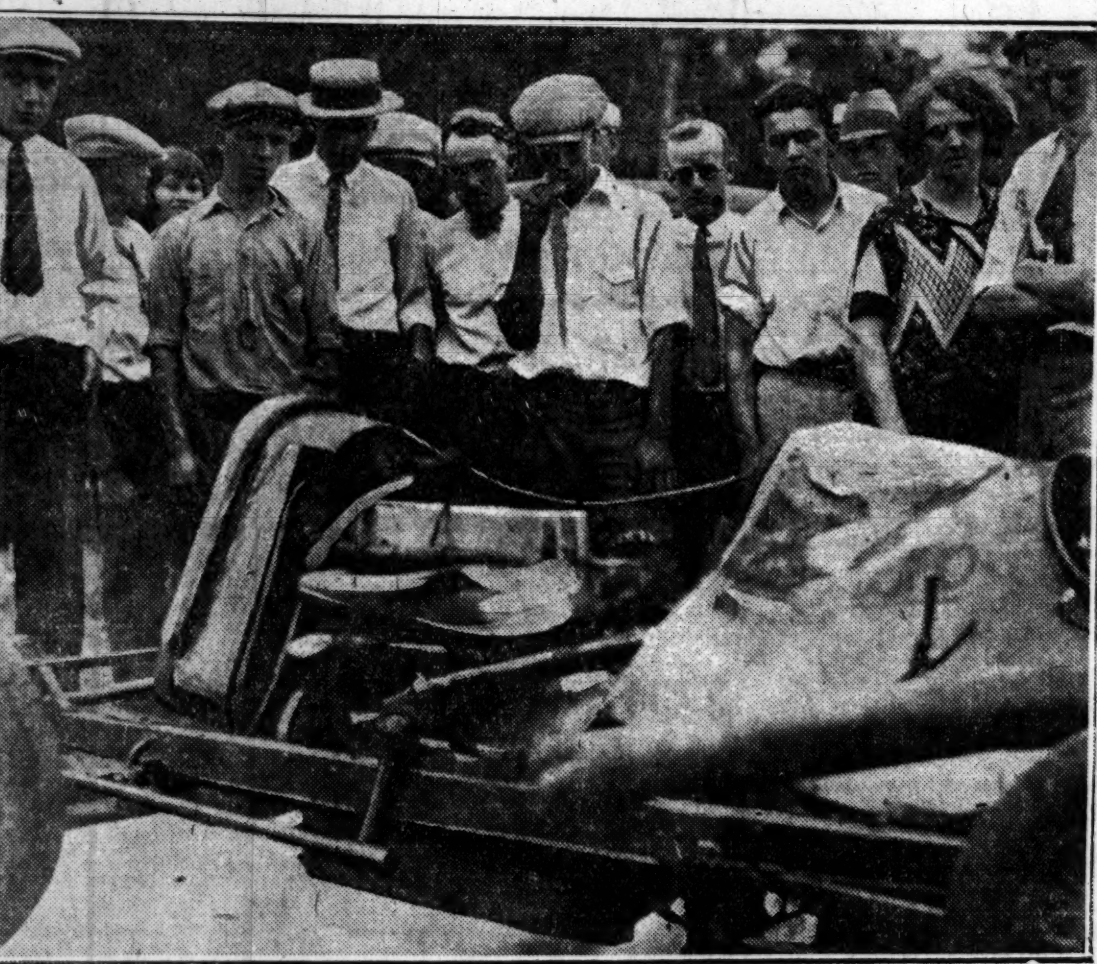

Garden City, L. I., July 18.—(Special.)—Who is to be the metropolitan champion for 1926? The question seems to be the greatest mystery of all. Macdonald, Lakewood, and Sarazen, the only two who can possibly solve the riddle, did their best to shed some light on the matter at the Saturday Country club today, but at nightfall every one was as much in the dark as the day before.

One hundred and eight golf holes have now been played in the attempt to find out whether Gene is to retain the title he won a year ago or if Smith is to add to the laurels he now holds the western and Long Island open crowns—and the situation is no different than it was when they started out, except that only two men are involved instead of 150. Each has completed the number three course at Balblain six times and the number of strokes is exactly the same—42. The number of strokes is exactly the same—42. Another playoff will be attempted Saturday.

They played the morning round today in 70-38 under par, and the afternoon round in 72, one under.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
New York, July 18.—C. C. Pyle, the erstwhile maestro of the rural nickelodeons, who made a capitalist of Red Grange after Bob Zuppke, had made a football player of an occasional ice man, now seems determined to make an honest sport of tennis.

Refusing to take "No" for an answer, Pyle has sailed for France to renew his efforts, hitherto conducted through his representative, Bill Picken, to bring Mile. Suzanne Lenglen to the United States as a candid professional. Of course, if he should be unable to persuade Mile. Lenglen to come here as a candid professional, Pyle might be willing to offer her a prosperous career as an amateur for several years. Pyle, who has been in the business since 1910, has made the picture personal attributes of the athletic virtuosity that Mile. Lenglen could bring to the box office.

Candor Would Help.—Pyle
However, a certain degree of candor would be preferable. It would be not only a novelty to the customers of tennis, but a great help to Pyle, in promoting the matches. Furthermore, it would be the means of founding a professional class. In the professional tennis business Pyle would not have to give any percentage to the United States Lawn Tennis association, nor would he have to submit his business plans to a tournament committee.

This is where Pyle has an opportunity to make an honest sport of tennis. If he should persuade Mile. Lenglen, the best drawing card of either sex in the sport, to play for money and admit as much, he would offer a very tempting example to a group of noted athletes in the same game, who are just now too delicately adjusted to own that they make their living on the courts. Pyle would terminate the present necessity for trifling with such arts as literature and the drama, both noisy and speechless.

He'll Try Own Convincing.
The idea of performing a favor to the sport may be remote from Pyle's mind, but nevertheless, he would be guilty of a distinguished service to the game as a whole, and would relieve the United States Lawn Tennis association of the embarrassing nuisance of the journeyman amateur.

Thus far Mile. Lenglen has evinced no eagerness to come to the United States and permit Pyle to make a fortune for her, to say nothing of a fortune for C. C. Pyle. But thus far Mile. Lenglen has been approached only by agents and has never yet been subjected to the rich persuasion of the altruist, who once remarked that he was entering the football business only to shepherd his boy friend, "Red" Grange, and added that Grange would make just as much money as C. C. Pyle.

Pyle may calmly offer Mile. Lenglen $200,000, which would be a downright hilarious number of francs, and furthermore, he is the sort of promoter who would then go right out and get $200,000 for Mile. Lenglen as well as another $200,000 for himself.

Tennis at present has more need of a professional class to embrace its stars than ever before, but unlike golf, baseball, swimming, and football, to name a few examples, it has been compelled to expand the definition of the word amateur until it now includes as amateurs a coterie of athletes who make only a vague pretense of engaging in productive occupations of the courts.

CHICAGO TO KNOW TODAY WHETHER IT GETS BIG BOUT

Rickard Will Decide on Dempsey-Tunney Go.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
Tex Rickard will decide this afternoon whether or not the bout between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney for the world's heavyweight championship will be held in Chicago or in New York.

Among those who phoned from New York was Billy Gibson, manager of Tunney, who pleaded with Tex to hold off his announcement for a day to ascertain whether the New York boxing commission might change its decision at tomorrow's meeting. Gibson said he was talking for Commissioner Muldoon.

Rickard Seems Unmoved.
Two emissaries from New York will arrive on the century this morning. According to Rickard they are coming west to urge him not to be too hasty in taking the match away from New York and to give the New York commission a chance to reconsider its former decision which made it imperative for Dempsey to box Harry Wilson before taking on Tunney.

Rickard reiterated that if things turn out here as he expects, he will not hesitate to name Chicago as the place for the contest. Tex seems none too friendly toward the New York commission. He says boxing is in a worse state at the present time than in any year since the inception of the Empire state boxing law.

Chicago Will Win.
"If I decide to hold the match in Chicago I will bend every effort to draw a larger gate than the one for the Dempsey-Carpenter fight," Rickard said. "That gate amounted to $1,600,000, the largest in boxing history. The more I think of Chicago as the location, the more enthusiastic I get."

Rickard has several conferences scheduled for today and expects to make his announcement late this afternoon. Rickard was inclined to believe yesterday Chicago will get the match.

RICKARD TO WED

George L. [Tex] Rickard, famed as a promoter of boxing matches and sports spectacles, admits that this fall he'll be one of the principals in a matrimonial venture.

Rickard made the announcement yesterday at his rooms in the Congress hotel. He said he is engaged to Miss Maxine Elliott Hodges of New York and Chicago, a former vaudeville star. He made the announcement in the form of a denial of a rumor rife in New York that the promoter and the actress already were wed.

To Marry in Fall.
In denying that he and Miss Hodges are married, Rickard declared that his bride to be is in Chicago visiting friends and that the wedding will not take place until fall, and when it does he will notify his friends.

Miss Hodges was reported to be 19 years old, but this Rickard denied. He said the former actress is 25. He has known her for several years. Rickard is 56 years of age. His wife, to whom he is married, died last fall. Their only child, a daughter, Bessie, died in 1907.

Close friends of Rickard last night declared that the promoter's romance with Miss Hodges began shortly after the death of his first wife. Last winter in Florida there were numerous reports that Rickard had married again.

Flanice Played Here.
Miss Hodges appeared in several stage productions in Chicago. Most of them while she was a child. Her last appearance on a local stage was in the showing of "On Trial" at Cohan's Grand several years ago.

Rickard was born in Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 2, 1870, and has had a varied career. He has been a cowpuncher, marshal, saloonkeeper, woodsman, prospector, and gambling house owner. Of recent years he has been a sports promoter, staging a number of world championship boxing contests.

Mitzi, sailed by its owner, Frank Merkle, yesterday captured the fourth leg of the Case yacht cup series for R class craft, held by the Chicago Yacht club over the twelve nautical mile triangular course off Belmont harbor.

Mitzi, whose time was 3:14:40, grabbed the leadership shortly after the sail got under way, and although given a bit of serious competition from the other entrants at various stages of the race, was easily the class of the fleet.

Ariel, which finished second in 3:15:09, and Fantome, which finished third in 3:24:05, offered the victor a bit of difficult sailing after the half-way mark had been passed. Ariel, coming up from the north, headed Fantome, which was rapidly gaining on Mitzi, but failed to catch sufficient wind to overtake the winner.

Mitzi, Ariel Afloat First.
Mitzi and Ariel were first to get over the line, being closely followed by Yank and Fantome. The boats jockeyed along until they reached the three mile buoy when Ariel and Mitzi took the lead.

When the leaders neared the finish line, Mitzi pushed the nose of Ariel out in front, caught a strong gust of wind from the northeast, and after turning a little south parallel with the finish line picked up enough speed to cross the final mark twenty-six seconds in advance of Ariel.

Stars Beat Pups.
In the interclub race between the pups of the Chicago Yacht club and the University of Illinois, the University yachts of the Sheridan Shore Yacht club of Wilmette, the victors won, yacht 163 going over the finish line in 1:54:46. Boats of the international class, however, were in a close race, with only one of each number in the world.

The visitors walked away with the race, having little competition, mostly because the light winds which prevailed yesterday morning favored the Stars.

Nalid, champion pup of the Chicago Yacht club, was the first Chicago boat to finish, taking fourth place in 2:21:39. The race was sailed on a flat sea.

HUFF'S CONDITION IMPROVING AND IS HOPEFUL, REPORT

George Huff, director of athletics at the University of Illinois, who has been critically ill in a London hospital, is "still improving and his condition is hopeful," relatives were advised by cable yesterday.

The message was from Mrs. Huff, who has been constantly at the bedside of the famous Illinois coach since he suffered a relapse a week ago, following an appendicitis operation July 7.

His early last week and blood transfusions were made.

Cuba and Canada Tie in Davis Cup Elimination

HAVANA, Cuba, July 17.—(AP)—In the second series of singles in the Davis cup elimination contest today, Jack Wright of Canada defeated Vincente Bonnet of Cuba, 6-4, 7-5, 6-2. This evened the match, two all, with one singles yet to play.

The singles match between W. P. Crocker, Canada, and Rogelio Parra, Cuba, was stopped by rain with the score of the first set standing 4-3 in favor of Parra.

GOLF STARS OPEN WEST'S AMATEUR TITLE PLAY TODAY

150 Ready for First Qualifying Round.

White Bear Lake, Minn., July 18.—(AP)—An imposing array of golfing talent will start the quest tomorrow for the western amateur golf crown won by Keeffe Carter yesterday at Oklahoma City.

More than 150 entries are scheduled to tee off tomorrow on the White Bear Yacht club course for the first 18 holes of the qualifying round, with the second 18 set for Tuesday.

Qualifiers for the championship match play will be Carter and the thirty-one low scorers in the medal rounds, with the match elimination progressing through the week until Saturday, when the 36 hole final match will be contested.

Play Practice Rounds.
Carter was one of a number of players who braved a blinding sun today and went a practice round, but he did not announce his card.

Several former western champions and a wide variety of state titleholders are in the competition this year. Among them are Eddie Held of St. Louis, trans-Mississippi champion; Harrison R. Johnston, St. Paul, Minn., 1924 western title winner; Russell Martin, Chicago, runner-up to Carter last year; Dr. Willing, whose play with the Walker cup team three years ago made him famous, and Dexter Cummings, Chicago.

Course a Stiff Test.
Despite the excessive heat, the last few days, the course was pronounced in good condition today, although there are a large number of cuppy lies. The putting greens are in excellent shape. The cups were being reset late today.

The course is a series of rolling hills, with plenty of hazards and bunkers to provide a real championship test, prominent golfers said today after trying it out. Par for each nine is 36, with 5,235 yards on the first nine and 3,271 on the second. The longest hole is the par 5 fifth—550 yards, and the shortest, the third, 134 yards.

Root's solitary pass, which became a run that loomed large at the time, went to Young to open the fourth. Lindstrom followed with a hit to left. Young raced to third and Stephenson threw to head him off. This induced Lindstrom to try for second, but he didn't get there, because the ball shot from Stephenson to Cooney to Adams to Grimm and back to him. Meanwhile Young hugged third and a fly by Meusel let him go home. After this it was easy for the Giant Killer. A double play added him, when Lindstrom opened the seventh with a single and he plunked three in a row in the ninth after Young had led off with a hit.

That Profitable Seventh.
The turning point of the struggle came at the start of the seventh, when Freigau flashed a clean liner to center for a single. Mr. Hack fidgeted around for a few moments and then ripped off a low drive toward the foot of the right field foul line. Young couldn't get to it and the ball shot past him into the crowd, Freigau halting at third and Wilson at second. Then Stephenson, who had opened the fifth with a single only to die in his tracks, drove a hit out over short and the two waiting runners scooted home with what was needed.

Refusing to concede that the young right hander from the coast was as good as he looked, McGraw shook things up with a couple of pinch hitters in the eighth. The first of them, Terry, was sent on his way on strikes. The next, Johnston, poked a feeble couldn't get to it and a fly by Meusel let him go home. After this it was easy for the Giant Killer. A double play added him, when Lindstrom opened the seventh with a single and he plunked three in a row in the ninth after Young had led off with a hit.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
Mr. Hack Wilson, spookster yesterday in a tone that Mr. John McGraw, his former boss, probably considered vulgar. The pudgy Hack pulled his speech in the form of a short drive for two sacks and it proved the pivot point of a rally that hoisted the Cubs to the winning role and defeated the Giants, master mind and all.

Root's solitary pass, which became a run that loomed large at the time, went to Young to open the fourth. Lindstrom followed with a hit to left. Root in Rare Form.
It was well that Root enjoyed one of his rare days when he was able to work the corners of the plate to perfection, because the Cubs themselves weren't much on hitting. For quite a spell they were having a hard time because he couldn't hit the ball, he was not alone in his glory. Sharing it with him were Howard Freigau and Elgie Stephenson, who also hit when they should have, and Charlie Root, who hurled so beautifully that the strategy of the master mind could make no impression on him. All that Charlie the Killer did was to allow seven hits, fan eight, and walk one. It was that lone walk that grew into New York's solo tally.

While Hack is to be congratulated upon his ability to remind his old-time boss that he (the boss) was not alone in his glory, he couldn't hit the ball, he was not alone in his glory. WHEAT BULLISH; HIGHER VALUES BELIEVED

By CHARLES MICHAELS.

A bullish situation exists in wheat in the United States, and taking the world in all, it favors holders so that a higher level of values is believed to be within a short time.

There may be brief periods of recession during readjustment of the trade to the movement of winter wheat in the north. The trend appears to be upward, and the extent of the advance is largely dependent on the outcome of the spring crop in Minnesota, the Dakotas and the western Canada.

Regulation has broadened and prices are close to 10c from the recent low. Net gains in Chicago last week were 1/4c to 1/2c, with Minneapolis up 1/4c to 1/2c, Winnipeg, 1/4c to 1/2c, and Kansas City, 1/4c to 1/2c. In all, the market has given a wonderful account of itself, considering the immensity of the southwest marketing and an unprecedented demand from practically all parts of the country. Wheat has been absorbed rapidly during the most anxious period expected.

Upturn Surprises Trade.
Millers were out of wheat, consumers were out of flour, speculators as a rule were out of their long wheat, and mostly short, and the combination of the upward movement of the advance in wheat, which surprised the trade with an advance of 7c in one day last week, due largely to the unexpected small showing of the Canadian crop, 49,000,000 bushels, against 41,000,000 last year.

Wheat prices have advanced so fast that a majority of operators have been afraid to stand long on their holdings and their selling on bulges has tended to keep the market from getting too congested on the bull side. So far, the bulk of the wheat bought by millers has been held with sales of flour, which have been unusually large. The feature confronting the trade at present is the movement of the new crop from Illinois, Indiana, and Missouri, as well as Iowa, and the extent of the advance is largely dependent on the outcome of the spring crop in Minnesota, the Dakotas, and the western Canada.

Spring Wheat Condition Slumps.
Spring wheat in the American and Canadian northwest has been back to condition since July 1, and indications are that August returns will show a sharp reduction from previous estimates. Back rust has been a factor in Minnesota, the Dakotas, southern Manitoba, and Saskatchewan, but no damage has resulted. In dry years like the present, the wheat straw becomes hard and brittle and is not susceptible to serious rust damage, as the latter occurs mainly when straw is soft and sappy.

Grain trades for Saturday were at record levels from the highest point of the week with the crowd well out of their holdings. Anticipations are for a further increase in the visible supply in the report, July wheat in Chicago at $1.45 1/2, and September at $1.45 1/2. Prices for the week follow:
